take a rest. While Ditlan was asleep, I directed the boat toward KPC.

When I caught sight of land, as if an island. I also saw a ship moving toward us. I went down to get the camera on the stock for sail, holding it firmly in the hand. I changed the direction  $180^{\circ}$  and the ship did the same, running after us. When they were nearing enough to see by binoculars, I realized that this was a ship armed with cannons. I threw the camera into the water according to the directions to be followed in adversity.

I woke Ditlan up and told him that there was a ship running after us and kept on operating the boat. Soon the ship approached to our boat and we were arrested.
