Thank you for these indications. On the basis of unanimous Defence preference for a hearing on these objections - and no request to instead file written submissions - I will recommend that these objections be discussed orally. I would be grateful for an indication in due course of the earliest date on which the parties would be ready to present these objections in court, which will assist in preparation of the relevant scheduling orders.

Best regards,
 Susan

Dear Susan,

The Nuon Chea defence team, as (almost) always, would like to discuss these issues in open court, as they relate to important fair trial concerns of which the wider public should be (made) aware.

Like the Ieng Sary team, we are in the process of assessing how much time it will cost us to prepare and present our objections. We will let you know as soon as possible.

I hope this helps.

Kind regards,

Jasper

Dear Ms. Lamb,

Our team considers that oral submissions would be the best format. We are still in the process of assessing how long it will take us to prepare and present these objections.

Dear Jasper,

Yes, your understanding is correct. Now that the 27 July deadline has passed and the OCP (and possibly other parties as well) have indicated which statements it seeks to tender, I would be grateful for indications from the Defence teams for how much time is required to formulate any objections to these statements before deadlines for these objections are set.

As the Chamber does not at this stage have a firm view on whether oral submissions or written pleadings would be the best format for these objections, the Defence may further provide indications as to preferences.

Best regards,
Susan

Subject: OCP Request E96/7

Dear Susan,

Yesterday the OCP filed its Further Request to Put Before the Chamber Written Statements and Transcripts (E96/8) in response to the Trial Chamber's Decision, dated 20 June 2012 (E96/7), seeking consolidated requests from the parties to that effect. As we understand the Chamber's ruling, parties will be provided with an opportunity by the Chamber to formulate objections to that request 'in due course' (either in writing or during a hearing) (E96/7, para. 36 & p. 18) and therefore responses to the OCP request are not anticipated at this time. Could you please confirm that understanding?

We will have submissions concerning the OCP request and would like to reserve our right to make those submissions at the appropriate time.

Kind regards,

Jasper
