1. INTRODUCTION

1. The Chamber is seised of requests by the Co-Prosecutors and Civil Party Lead Co-Lawyers (“Lead Co-Lawyers”) to put witness and Civil Party statements,¹ victim complaints,² Civil Party applications and related material³ (collectively, “statements”) and Case 001 transcripts before the Chamber.⁴ The NUON Chea Defence and KHIEU Samphan Defence (“NUON Chea” and “KHIEU Samphan”, respectively) object.⁵

2. BACKGROUND

2. On 19 April 2011, the Co-Prosecutors proposed 1,819 statements and 69 Case 001 transcripts.⁶ On the same date, the Lead Co-Lawyers proposed 8,110 statements.⁷ On 22 July

² Under the Internal Rules, victims may lodge a complaint with the Co-Prosecutors alleging the commission of crimes. Such complaints are processed by the Victims’ Unit and forwarded to the Co-Prosecutors. They must include the identity of the complainant, the subject of the complaint, a summary of the alleged criminal acts, details of potential witnesses and any evidence in the possession of the complainant (Internal Rule 49 and Practice Direction on Victims’ Participation, Article 2).

⁶ Co-Prosecutors’ Rule 80(3) Trial Document List, E9/31, 19 April 2011, paras 1, 19-21 (“OCP April 2011 Lists”), Annex 11 – CF1 Trial Transcripts, E9/31.11, Annex 12 – Witness Statements, E9/31.12, Annex 13 – Complaints, E9/31.13. Mc G

2011, the Lead Co-Lawyers reduced the number of proposed statements to those made by the 3,866 Civil Parties admitted in Case 002.⁸ In the first decision on the admissibility of documentary evidence, issued on 9 April 2012, the Chamber admitted, among other evidence, 197 statements and six Case 001 transcripts relevant to proof of historical background, as well as communication and administrative structures.⁹

3. In a decision issued on 20 June 2012 (“Statements Decision”), the Chamber, referring to procedural rules established at the international level, decided that, subject to certain conditions, written statements and transcripts were admissible absent the opportunity for confrontation in place of oral testimony.¹⁰ The Chamber directed the parties to review their lists of statements by 27 July 2012 in accordance with the admissibility criteria set out in the Statements Decision, to specify the evidentiary purpose of each statement or category of documents (particularly where specific reasons are alleged which justify the admission of statements which go to proof of acts or conduct of the accused without in-court examination of their authors) and to consider proposing a representative sample of each type of evidence where this evidence is voluminous or essentially repetitive.¹¹ On 15 June 2012 and 5 July 2012, the Co-Prosecutors proposed statements relevant to population movement phases one and two.¹² On 27 July 2012, the Co-Prosecutors submitted a list of more than 1,500 statements and transcripts, incorporating by reference those proposed in relation to population movement phases one and two.¹³ The Lead Co-Lawyers also indicated that they no longer

proposed any victim complaints, but still sought the admission of statements made by all 3,866 Civil Parties admitted in Case 002.¹⁴

4. On 8 October 2012, the Chamber extended the scope of Case 002/01 to include executions of former Khmer Republic officials at Tuol Po Chrey.¹⁵ On 19 October 2012, the Chamber therefore ordered the parties to indicate all additional evidence they sought to put before the Chamber in relation to Tuol Po Chrey or population movement phases one and two no later than 30 November 2012.¹⁶ The Chamber further notified the Co-Prosecutors that only those statements available in all official languages would be considered. The Co-Prosecutors were directed to advise the Chamber and parties, at the earliest opportunity, if certain statements proposed in the OCP July 2012 Request would no longer be tendered.¹⁷ The Chamber also ordered the Lead Co-Lawyers to identify a representative sample of statements relating to all trial segments and available in all official languages no later than 4 March 2013.¹⁸ The deadline for objections to proposed statements was 26 April 2013.¹⁹ NUON Chea filed a Preliminary Response on 8 November 2012.²⁰

5. On 23 November 2012, the Co-Prosecutors proposed the additional evidence they deemed relevant to the execution of Khmer Republic officials at Tuol Po Chrey and Order the Co-Prosecutors to Revise the List of Written Statements They are Seeking to Put before the Chamber in Lieu of Oral Testimony, E223, 29 August 2012, paras 6-22). The Co-Prosecutors again requested that all statements identified in the OCP July 2012 Request be admitted (Co-Prosecutors' Response to KHIEU Samphan's Request to Revise Corroborative Evidence Lists, E223/1, 10 September 2012 ("September 2012 Request")).

population movement phases one and two, declining to include any written statements to avoid “overlapping” with previous requests.²¹ On 3 December 2012, considering the admissibility criteria applicable to written statements and transcripts, the Chamber, in its second decision pertaining to documentary evidence, admitted ten Case 001 transcripts and two statements proposed by the Co-Prosecutors as proof of matters other than the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.²²

6. The Lead Co-Lawyers filed a revised list of 520 statements on 4 March 2013.²³ On 9 April 2013, KHIEU Samphan made submissions on the legal standards governing the admission of statements in place of oral testimony.²⁴ On the same day, the Co-Prosecutors proposed a revised list of 1,109 statements and transcripts indicating which allegedly contained evidence relevant to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.²⁵ On 26 April 2013, NUON Chea and KHIEU Samphan responded.²⁶ NUON Chea filed further objections on 29 April 2013.²⁷ The Co-Prosecutors and Lead Co-Lawyers filed consolidated responses to all Defence objections on 27 May 2013 and 10 June 2013, respectively.²⁸

7. Between 6 and 19 June 2013, the parties were notified of the witnesses previously requested by the parties that the Chamber would not call in Case 002/01.²⁹ On 13 June 2013, the Chamber held the final trial management meeting in Case 002/01 to discuss all outstanding matters, including the remaining witnesses to be called and evidence to be admitted.³⁰ On 17 June 2013, NUON Chea filed additional objections concerning the admission of any evidence relating to the execution of Khmer Republic officials at Tuol Po

Chrey contained in the statements of persons not called to testify in Case 002/01 and requesting that six witnesses be summonsed.³¹ The Co-Prosecutors responded on 25 June 2013, solely with respect to NUON Chea's submissions on the admissibility of written statements in place of oral testimony.³² NUON Chea replied on 1 July 2013.³³

8. On 17 July 2013, the Co-Prosecutors requested that the Defence confirm its objections concerning written statements which the Defence has relied upon in questioning witnesses before the Chamber.³⁴ KHIEU Samphan and NUON Chea both confirmed their prior objections to the admissibility of written statements in place of oral testimony.³⁵ Further, on 23 July 2013, NUON Chea requested the Chamber to summons 111 witnesses who made statements concerning the targeting of Khmer Republic officials in the event those statements were admitted.³⁶ The Co-Prosecutors and the Civil Party Lead Co-Lawyers responded.³⁷ That same day the Chamber denied the request to summons those 111 witnesses notifying the parties that its reasoning would follow.³⁸

3. SUBMISSIONS

3.1. Submissions concerning the OCP and Civil Parties Revised Requests

9. In the OCP Revised Request, the Co-Prosecutors propose 1,109 allegedly cumulative and reliable statements and transcripts relevant to both those factual allegations within the scope of Case 002/01 and to all Closing Order crimes sites and Democratic Kampuchea policies. The Co-Prosecutors submit that some statements relevant to facts beyond the scope of Case 002/01 are nevertheless essential in order to satisfy their burden of proof in relation to joint criminal enterprise policies and the contextual elements of crimes against humanity.³⁹ The Co-Prosecutors indicate that these statements are not proposed as proof of the acts or conduct of the Accused as charged thus their admission, absent the opportunity for examination, is not precluded.⁴⁰ The Co-Prosecutors, however, do propose to redact information relating to the acts and conduct of the Accused from 220 statements.⁴¹

10. The Co-Prosecutors further argue that the standards set out in the Statements Decision correctly adapted international procedural rules concerning the admission of witness statements to the context of the ECCC and should be interpreted strictly.⁴² The Co-Prosecutors argue that considerations beyond whether a statement goes to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged should be considered in assigning weight, not in determining admissibility.⁴³ They argue that the Defence implicitly waived their objections to the admission of certain statements going to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged by using them during the questioning of various witnesses. The Co-Prosecutors request the Chamber to take this into account in its decision concerning the admissibility of written statements.⁴⁴ They suggest, however, that the Chamber consider hearing those witnesses whose statements go to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused.⁴⁵ Further, they argue that all statements made by deceased witnesses should be admitted in the interests of justice and regardless of whether they contain evidence going to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.⁴⁶ Finally, the Co-Prosecutors identify various statements of witnesses and Civil Parties who have appeared before the Chamber, requesting that those not yet admitted be put before Chamber.⁴⁷

11. The Lead Co-Lawyers propose 520 allegedly cumulative and relevant statements contained in Civil Party applications and related material, but submit that none are tendered for the purpose of proving the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.⁴⁸ They argue that, until Defence objections are resolved, they are unable to differentiate between admissible and inadmissible portions of a statement. In any event, they claim that no evidence should be excluded in its entirety on the basis that only portions thereof are admissible.⁴⁹ The Lead Co-Lawyers suggest, however, that the Chamber hear any Civil Party whose testimony goes to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged upon request by the Defence.⁵⁰ Additionally, the Lead Co-Lawyers argue that the review of Civil Party applications by the Co-Investigating Judges and Pre-Trial Chamber during the investigation phase demonstrate their prima facie reliability.⁵¹ Finally, the Lead Co-Lawyers submit that Defence objections are untimely and lack specificity.⁵²

12. NUON Chea argues that, when deciding whether or not written statements and transcripts may be admitted in place of oral testimony, the Chamber adopted the criteria set out in ICTY Rule 92*bis* without limit and must therefore, in accordance with the jurisprudence and rules of the ad hoc tribunals, require a witness to attest to the veracity of a statement, consider whether a statement goes to criminal conduct that is “highly proximate” or concerns “live issues”, and exclude statements containing evidence of the acts and conduct of the accused as charged and “evidence proximate to the Accused”, even if also relevant to another purpose.⁵³ NUON Chea argues that various statements are not cumulative of live testimony before the Chamber and should be excluded on this basis.⁵⁴ NUON Chea submits that the number of statements proposed is unmanageably large, that the Co-Prosecutors have failed to make timely and adequate reductions and that most of the proposed statements have limited relevance.⁵⁵ NUON Chea also argues that the institutional objectives of DC-Cam and the reliability of statements taken by the Office of the Co-Prosecutors (“OCP”) and entities external to the ECCC should result in their exclusion. Further, he submits that the admission of OCP statements and Case 001 transcripts would violate the principle of equality of arms and the admission of Case 001 transcripts would impede the ability of the Chamber to be impartial in Case 002.⁵⁶

13. KHIEU Samphan submits that all witness statements related to the acts and conduct attributable to the Accused or to “live issues” between the parties must be excluded where no opportunity for cross-examination has been provided.⁵⁷ KHIEU Samphan defines “live issues” as structures, the existence and policies of a joint criminal enterprise, the threshold requirements of crimes against humanity and the displacement of the population.⁵⁸ KHIEU Samphan also objects to the admission of statements outside the scope of Case 002/01, uncorroborated statements, written records of interviews unaccompanied by an audio recording on the case file and all statements taken by external entities.⁵⁹

14. In response to a request by the Co-Prosecutors, both NUON Chea and KHIEU Samphan confirmed their respective objections to the admissibility of written statements, submitting that use of statements during examination of a witness by the Defence has no bearing on the admissibility of such statements in place of oral testimony.⁶⁰

3.2. Submissions concerning NUON Chea's "Request to Summons Witnesses in Respect of Alleged Policy of Targeting Khmer Republic Officials"

15. NUON Chea argues that, based in part on contradictions in the evidence of other witnesses before the Chamber, statements concerning the targeting of Khmer Republic officials are systematically unreliable and fail to support a pattern of widespread executions demonstrating a Democratic Kampuchea policy.⁶¹ Further, NUON Chea argues that, considering that he was waiting for the Chamber to notify the parties which written statements would be admitted, his application is timely and satisfies the reasonable diligence requirements set out in Internal Rule 87(4). On these bases, NUON Chea requests the Chamber to summons 111 witnesses who made statements concerning the targeting of Khmer Republic officials in the event those statements are admitted.⁶²

16. The Co-Prosecutors argue that this request is untimely and challenges the sufficiency and reliability of evidence which would more appropriately be addressed in final submissions.⁶³ The Lead Co-Lawyers endorse the position of the Co-Prosecutors arguing that the request is a delaying tactic and that the calling of further witnesses is unnecessary.⁶⁴

4. FINDINGS

4.1. Legal Framework

17. Written statements or transcripts which go to proof of the acts and conduct of an accused as charged in the indictment shall, subject to limited exceptions, be regarded as “not allowed under the law” pursuant to Internal Rule 87(3)(d) and are inadmissible for this purpose, unless the Defence has been accorded the opportunity of in-court examination of their authors.⁶⁵ Provided, however, that statements and transcripts are relevant to proof of matters other than the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged and otherwise satisfy Internal Rule 87(3), it is in the interests of justice and expeditious proceedings that such evidence be admitted.⁶⁶ Further, the admission of evidence is not precluded where a witness is deceased, cannot be traced with the exercise of reasonable diligence or is unavailable due to threats, intimidation or other improper interference.⁶⁷

18. Factors in favour of admitting statements and transcripts in place of oral testimony include the genuine absence of the opportunity for confrontation (due to the death, medical inability to testify orally or impossibility, with reasonable diligence, to trace the author of the statement), the cumulative nature of the evidence and whether the evidence goes to proof of threshold elements of international crimes (such as the widespread or systematic nature of an attack), crime base, victim impact, historical background or administrative structures.⁶⁸ The Chamber notes that, in adopting the standards set out in the Statements Decision, it did not also adopt wholesale the technical and detailed requirements of ICTY Rules 92*bis*, 92*ter* or 92*quater*.⁶⁹

⁶⁷ Statements Decision, paras 32-33.

⁶⁸ Statements Decision, paras 17, 24, 25, 32, 34, disposition.

⁶⁹ The ICTR, ICTY, STL, ICC and SCSL all recognize the general principle that the evidence of a witness has limited probative value absent the opportunity for confrontation. The technical and detailed provisions in ICTY Rules 92*bis*, 92*ter* and 92*quater*, however, are not identically reflected in the rules of the other

19. The Chamber further clarifies that the “acts and conduct” standard adopted in the Statements Decision applies only to a statement or transcript that, “on its face and taken by itself”, goes to proof of the personal acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.⁷⁰ To interpret this standard to exclude statements and transcripts going to proof of matters other than the personal acts and conduct of the Accused as charged – for example, proof of “pivotal” issues in the Co-Prosecutors’ case, “live” matters in dispute or the acts and conduct of organisations and bodies to which the Accused belonged, persons with whom he was associated or “proximate” subordinates – “would effectively denude [this standard of] any real utility”.⁷¹ Instead all objections and submissions on this basis, in conjunction with the criteria set forth in the Statements Decision, shall be taken into consideration at the conclusion of the trial in assigning weight to all statements and transcripts put before the Chamber.⁷² As the Chamber has emphasised previously, the absence of oral testimony and opportunity for confrontation are relevant considerations in assessing what, if any, probative value and weight may be accorded to statements or transcripts admitted in place of oral testimony.⁷³

20. In addition to the criteria set out in the Statements Decision, all proposed evidence must be prima facie relevant and reliable and otherwise satisfy the requirements of Internal Rule 87(3). Evidence cited in the Closing Order paragraphs included within the scope of Case 002/01 are entitled to a presumption of relevance and reliability (including authenticity) and international(ised) courts. Accordingly, they cannot be considered a standard of international procedure automatically applicable in the unique context of any other international(ised) court (Prosecutor v. Bemba, Judgment on the Appeals of Mr. Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo and the Prosecutor against the Decision of Trial Chamber III entitled “Decision on the Admission into Evidence of Materials Contained in the Prosecution’s List of Evidence”, ICC Appeals Chamber (ICC-01/05-01/08), 3 May 2011, para. 56). The Chamber therefore disregards submissions based on the technical and detailed requirements in the ICTY Rules (NUON Chea Preliminary Response, paras 2, 5-10; NUON Chea Response, paras 8-14; OCP Revised Request, para. 17).

statements taken during the judicial investigation are entitled to a presumption of reliability.⁷⁴ Throughout the proceedings, the parties have been ordered to limit proposed evidence to that directly relevant to Case 002/01.⁷⁵ The Chamber, however, has admitted evidence relevant to Democratic Kampuchea policies and crime sites outside the scope of Case 002/01, usually when this evidence is adduced as part of directly relevant evidence and/or concerns the impact of crimes on victims.⁷⁶

21. Concerning the prima facie reliability of proposed evidence, the Chamber notes that alleged defects in statements taken during the judicial investigation must be identified with sufficient particularity and have clear relevance to the trial.⁷⁷ Objections concerning the circumstances under which a statement was taken, such as the motive of a source or whether an interview was audio-recorded, go beyond its prima facie reliability and shall be considered in assigning weight in light of the entire body of evidence at the conclusion of the trial.⁷⁸ In this regard, the Chamber consequently notes that reliability concerns inherent in statements taken by the Co-Prosecutors during the Preliminary Investigation and Case 001 transcripts where the interests of the parties are distinct from that in Case 002, are factors relevant to the final assessment of evidence, not its admissibility. Contrary to NUON Chea's submissions otherwise, however, the role the Co-Prosecutors played in the Preliminary Investigation and other cases does not impact the equality of arms so long as all parties have procedural equality in presenting their case.⁷⁹ Moreover, under the ECCC legal framework, the Preliminary Investigation conducted by the Co-Prosecutors does not play a major role in the pre-trial phase, where instead the Judicial Investigation, which necessarily follows the Preliminary

Investigation, is crucial and offers a wide range of rights to all parties.⁸⁰ Finally, the Chamber has already determined that its adjudication of Case 001 does not impact its ability to be impartial in Case 002.⁸¹

22. All evidence not previously on the case file and/or not included on the parties' Internal Rule 80(3) lists constitutes new evidence subject to the heightened admissibility requirements of Internal Rule 87(4). A party must demonstrate, by reasoned submission, that new evidence was not available prior to the opening of the trial and/or could not have been discovered and presented earlier with the exercise of reasonable diligence. New evidence must also be conducive to ascertaining the truth and meet the requirements of Internal Rule 87(3).⁸²

4.2. Analysis

4.2.1. Statements and Transcripts of Available Witnesses Proposed in Place of Oral Testimony

23. Both the Co-Prosecutors and Lead Co-Lawyers acknowledge that various proposed statements and transcripts contain evidence relating to the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged, but stress that they are not seeking the admission of those statements for the purpose of proving the acts and conduct of the Accused.⁸³ The Statements Decision precludes the admission of statements or transcripts of available witnesses that go to proof of the personal acts and conduct of the Accused as charged. Nothing, however, precludes the admission of statements or transcripts that may contain evidence relating to the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged when those documents are proposed and ultimately relied upon for purposes other than proving the personal acts and conduct of the Accused, including the credibility of other evidence on the record.⁸⁴ Accordingly, the Chamber dismisses the Defence requests to exclude all statements and transcripts containing evidence relating to the acts and conduct of the Accused or to “live” and “pivotal” issues insofar as these objections concern statements or transcripts relevant to proof of matters other than the personal acts and conduct of the Accused as charged. All Defence submissions and objections, however, will be considered in assigning weight, if any, to each statement and transcript in the verdict.

24. The Co-Prosecutors propose to redact information relating to the acts and conduct of the Accused from 220 statements, the majority of which are proposed as proof of matters other than the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.⁸⁵ The Defence claims insufficient opportunity to review these proposed redactions.⁸⁶ The Chamber notes, first, that 67 of the statements proposed for redaction have already been put before the Chamber in un-redacted form and some have already been used in conjunction with the evidence of various witnesses and Civil Parties.⁸⁷ Further, KHIEU Samphan previously proposed at least 11 of these statements for admission.⁸⁸ KHIEU Samphan and/or NUON Chea also earlier requested the appearance before the Court of at least 20 of the witnesses who made statements now proposed for redaction.⁸⁹ In turn, the Chamber considers that some of the portions proposed for redaction may prove exculpatory or may qualify, modify or otherwise affect the credibility of the statements as a whole or other evidence already before the Chamber.⁹⁰ The Chamber therefore declines to order the redactions proposed by the Co-Prosecutors. The Chamber, however, will consider these proposed redactions, in conjunction with all other submissions and objections, in assigning weight, if any, to these statements in the verdict.

⁹⁰ Galić Appeal Decision, para. 46.

25. The Chamber has identified 24 proposed statements, including 16 proposed for redaction, that are directly relevant to Case 002/01 only insofar as they go to proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged. The Chamber therefore denies the request to admit these statements (Confidential Annex B, Section 1).

26. The Chamber finds, however, that 1,114 statements and transcripts are cumulative of each other and/or other evidence, including the live evidence of witnesses and Civil Parties, already on the record and are prima facie relevant to proof of matters within the scope of Case 002/01 other than acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.⁹¹ These factors weigh in favour of admission. The Chamber also recalls that statements and transcripts cited in the footnotes of the Closing Order included within the scope of Case 002/01 have already been afforded a presumption of reliability and relevance and statements taken during the judicial investigation have also been afforded a presumption of reliability. Further, all Defence objections to the reliability of the proposed statements and transcripts concern the circumstances under which they were taken including whether an interview was audio-recorded or refer to an alleged motive behind statements taken by OCP investigators, DC-Cam personnel and other entities external to the ECCC.⁹² These objections go beyond the prima facie reliability of the proposed statements and shall be considered in assigning weight, if any, in the verdict and not at the admissibility stage. The Chamber consequently admits 1,114 statements and transcripts of available witnesses in place of oral testimony (Confidential Annex A, Section 1).⁹³

27. The Chamber notes that various statements and transcripts of available witnesses were already assigned an E3 number in previous document decisions or following their presentation in court, but were not included in the OCP Revised Request or Civil Parties Revised Request.⁹⁴ The Chamber already determined that these statements and transcripts were prima facie relevant and reliable in accordance with Internal Rule 87(3). Insofar as they were admitted as proof of matters other than the personal acts and conduct of the Accused as charged, the Chamber now confirms that they are indeed put before the Chamber and satisfy the admissibility criteria applicable to written statements.

⁹¹ There is no requirement, as NUON Chea suggests, that cumulative evidence must confirm or corroborate other evidence concerning similar facts, rather cumulative evidence must relate to similar facts. To consider otherwise would impede the interests of justice limiting the Chamber and parties to one version or one account and preventing the admission of statements and transcripts contradicting live testimony (Statements Decision, para 24; see also Prosecutor v. Mladić, Decision on Prosecution Motion to Admit Evidence pursuant to Rule 92bis: Witness RM-159, ICTY Trial Chamber (IT-09-92-T), 28 June 2013, para. 10 (noting that the fact that a statement is contradictory to other evidence on the record “is no ground for denying admission”); Prosecutor v. Nizeyimana, Decision on Prosecutor’s Interlocutory Appeal of Decision Not to Admit Marcel Gatsinzi’s Statement into Evidence Pursuant to Rule 92bis, ICTR Appeals Chamber (ICTR-00-55C-AR73.2), 8 March 2011, para. 13). Accordingly, the Chamber rejects the Defence objections in this regard (NUON Chea Response, paras 24-30; NUON Chea TPC Request, paras 8, 36; NUON Chea TPC Reply, paras 3-6, 8). Regarding relevance, the Chamber notes that various statements are directly relevant to the impact of crimes on victims even though they are otherwise relevant only to matters outside the scope of Case 002/01. As a matter of practice, the Chamber has admitted victim impact evidence even if it falls outside the scope of Case 002/01 (Statements on Suffering Decision).

28. Finally, the Chamber rules that insofar as any statement or transcript of available witnesses contains evidence relevant to proof of the acts and conduct of the accused as charged, it will not rely on this information in order to prove the Accused's personal acts or conduct as charged in Case 002/01.⁹⁵

4.2.2. Statements of Deceased Witnesses

29. The Co-Prosecutors propose to put before the Chamber the statements of deceased witnesses as proof of various matters at issue in Case 002/01, including the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged.⁹⁶ On the basis of party submissions and after reviewing the relevant documentation, the Chamber is satisfied that the witnesses who made the statements identified in Confidential Annex A, Section 2 are deceased.⁹⁷ The Chamber recalls that statements of deceased witnesses and Civil Parties are admissible, including for the purpose of proving the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged, if they are prima facie relevant and reliable and they otherwise satisfy the requirements of Internal Rule 87(3).⁹⁸ The Chamber notes, however, that statements of deceased witnesses and Civil Parties, although admissible as proof of the acts and conduct of the Accused as charged, may have limited probative value and a conviction may not be based solely or decisively thereupon.

30. After reviewing the proposed statements, the Chamber finds that the ten statements made by deceased witnesses, including those cited in the footnotes of the Closing Order and therefore afforded a presumption of relevance, are prima facie relevant to Case 002/01. Further, all Defence objections to the reliability of the proposed statements and transcripts go

⁹⁶ OCP Revised Request, para. 31; Revised Annex 12, Section D.

⁹⁷ The Chamber is entitled to conclude on the basis of submissions alone that a witness or Civil Party is deceased (Galić Appeal Decision, para. 33; Martić Appeal Decision, para. 28). Since the filing of the OCP Revised Request, the Chamber was notified that another witness whose statement was proposed in place oral testimony was in fact deceased (see Death Certificate of TCW-699, E292/1/3.1, 21 June 2013).

⁹⁸ Statements Decision, paras 32-33.

beyond their prima facie reliability.⁹⁹ These objections shall nonetheless be considered in assigning weight, if any, to this evidence in the verdict. The Chamber further finds that all statements – including those cited in the relevant footnotes of the Closing Order and/or taken during the judicial investigation and therefore afforded a presumption of reliability – are prima facie reliable. Accordingly, the Chamber admits ten statements made by deceased witnesses (Confidential Annex A, Section 2).¹⁰⁰

4.2.3. Other Documents

31. The Chamber identified 24 documents in Revised Annex 12 that do not qualify as witness or Civil Party statements including speeches and interviews by POL Pot during the Democratic Kampuchea era, a speech given by a former UNICEF officer, the transcript of an historical documentary and reports concerning attempts to locate missing persons (Confidential Annex A, Section 3).¹⁰¹ The heightened admissibility standard set out in the Statements Decision applies only to written statements and transcripts and does not affect the admissibility of any other evidence. Thus these 24 documents need only be prima facie relevant and reliable pursuant to Internal Rule 87(3).

32. The Chamber finds that these documents, including those cited in the footnotes of the Closing Order, are prima facie relevant to Case 002/01. Additionally, all Defence objections to the reliability of the proposed documents concern the context in which they were taken, such as the true motive of the sources and/or the purpose behind documents originating from sources external to the ECCC.¹⁰² These objections go beyond the prima facie reliability of the proposed evidence and shall be considered in assigning weight, if any, in the verdict. After reviewing these proposed documents, the Chamber finds that they are also prima facie reliable. Accordingly, the Chamber admits these documents (Confidential Annex A, Section 3).

⁹⁹ The Defence objects to the reliability of statements unaccompanied by a recording on the case file and statements taken by OCP investigators, DC-Cam personnel and other entities external to the ECCC (NUON Chea Preliminary Response, paras 40-46; NUON Chea Response, paras 40-42, 45-52; KHIEU Samphan Response, paras 34-45).

¹⁰² NUON Chea Preliminary Response, paras 40-46; NUON Chea Response, paras 40-42, 45-52; KHIEU Samphan Response, paras 34-45.

4.2.4. Proposed Evidence of Facts outside the Scope of Case 002/01

33. The Co-Prosecutors and Lead Co-Lawyers request the admission of statements and transcripts they concede go beyond the scope of Case 002/01 (although allegedly essential to proving general policies, context and the threshold elements).¹⁰³ NUON Chea and KHIEU Samphan object.¹⁰⁴

34. The Chamber finds that 122 statements, transcripts and other documents concern factual allegations falling outside the scope of Case 002/01. These statements and transcripts were not cited in the relevant footnotes of the Closing Order included within the scope of Case 002/01 and are therefore afforded no presumption of relevance. The Chamber further considers that these statements and transcripts are not essential in order for the Co-Prosecutors to discharge their burden of proof in relation to the policies of the joint criminal enterprise alleged in the Closing Order or in relation to the alleged widespread and systematic nature of the attack on the civilian population. Indeed, the 1,399 statements and transcripts admitted by this decision (Confidential Annex A), in addition to being directly relevant to Case 002/01, comprise a cumulative and representative sample of all crimes sites and Democratic Kampuchea policies identified in the Case 002 Closing Order. The Chamber consequently denies the request to admit 122 statements and transcripts that are repetitive and beyond the scope of Case 002/01 (Confidential Annex B, Section 2).

4.2.5. New Evidence (Internal Rule 87(4))

4.2.5.1. OCP Revised Request

35. The Co-Prosecutors propose 15 statements taken in conjunction with the investigations in Cases 003 and 004 and not included in their Internal Rule 80(3) lists of evidence.¹⁰⁵ These statements were made between July 2010 and September 2011 and were disclosed to the parties in Case 002 on 2 February 2012.¹⁰⁶ They were only proposed for admission, however, in the OCP Revised Request on 9 April 2013. The Chamber recalls that, pursuant to Internal Rule 87(4), a party must demonstrate that it exercised reasonable diligence in discovering and presenting evidence not available prior to the opening of the trial and/or not included on the Internal Rule 80(3) lists. The Co-Prosecutors make no reasoned submissions pursuant to Internal Rule 87(4). The Chamber therefore finds that the Co-Prosecutors have failed to demonstrate reasonable diligence in discovering and/or presenting this new evidence proposed for incriminating purposes more than two years after the Co-Prosecutors had access to it and more than a year after it was first disclosed to the Chamber and the parties.

36. Considering, however, that four of these new statements were made by witnesses who testified in Case 002/01, during which an opportunity for adversarial challenge was afforded to the Defence, the Chamber finds that it is in the interests of justice that these statements be evaluated together with the live testimony of these witnesses. The Chamber therefore places these four statements on the case file and puts them before the Chamber (Confidential Annex A, Section 4). The Chamber declines to put the remaining new statements on the case file and denies the request to admit them (Confidential Annex B, Section 3).

4.2.5.2. NUON Chea's "Request to Summons Witnesses in Respect of Alleged Policy of Targeting Khmer Republic Officials"

37. In the event certain statements concerning the targeting of Khmer Republic officials are admitted in place of oral testimony, NUON Chea requests the Chamber to summons the 111 witnesses who made these statements.¹⁰⁷ The Chamber notes that one of these witnesses was previously proposed by NUON Chea and seven were previously proposed by the Co-Prosecutors.¹⁰⁸ The Chamber has already determined which witnesses would not be called at trial.¹⁰⁹ Accordingly, in relation to these eight witnesses, the Defence is effectively requesting the Chamber to reconsider its prior decision not to call them. No new facts are alleged. The NUON Chea identifies the witnesses he requests to summons, as well as the relevant statements in Annex A to his request (Annex A: Witnesses Cited by CIJs and Co-Prosecutors in Connection with Alleged Policy to Target Lon Nol Soldiers and Officials for Execution, E291/2.1).

¹⁰⁸ NUON Chea previously proposed TCW-38. The Co-Prosecutors previously proposed TCW-79, TCW-155, TCW-160, TCW-298, TCW-347, TCW-380 and TCW-486.

Chamber finds inadmissible NUON Chea's request to reconsider its refusal to summons these eight witnesses.¹¹⁰

38. In relation to the remaining 103 witnesses NUON Chea proposes to summons, the Chamber notes that NUON Chea has been on notice since April 2011 that the Co-Prosecutors sought to put before the Chamber in place of oral testimony the statements of all witnesses now proposed by the Defence. After the Chamber issued the Statements Decision on 20 June 2012, the Co-Prosecutors notified the Chamber and parties of the revised lists of statements they proposed in July 2012 and April 2013.¹¹¹ NUON Chea's decision not to propose these witnesses earlier, despite being on notice that their statements may be admitted in place of oral testimony since April 2011, does not constitute reasonable diligence in discovering and proposing this evidence, particularly at this late stage of the trial. NUON Chea therefore fails to satisfy the requirements of Internal Rule 87(4). The Chamber denies this request.

39. In any event, the Chamber notes that all but one of the statements made by witnesses now proposed by NUON Chea and included in the OCP Revised Request have been admitted.¹¹² Where statements, such as these, satisfy certain conditions, the Chamber has already determined that it is in the interests of justice and expeditious proceedings that they be admitted in place of oral testimony thus permitting the Chamber to dispense with the appearance of their authors.¹¹³

4.2.6. Further Impediments to the Opportunity for Adversarial Challenge

40. The Co-Prosecutors propose 32 statements and transcripts in the OCP Revised Request of April 2013 that were identified in the OCP April 2011 Lists, but were not included in the OCP July 2012 Request (Confidential Annex B, Section 4).¹¹⁴ The Chamber ordered the

¹¹¹ Statements of all proposed witnesses were included in the April 2011 List, all but one were included in the OCP July 2012 Request (D108/6/15) and all but nine were included in OCP Revised Request filed in April 2013 (D108/6/15, D232/86, D125/66, E190.1.63, D125/96, D125/116, D25/26, D125/120 and D125/89).

¹¹³ Statements Decision, paras 23-33.

¹¹⁴ These 32 statements and transcripts were made by witnesses who have not appeared before the Chamber and have not been previously admitted. The Chamber is mindful that additional statements and transcripts were included in Revised Annex 12 and Revised Annex 13 but not in the OCP July 2012 Request. These, however, parties to file revised lists of statements and transcripts proposed for admission in place of oral testimony by 27 July 2012.¹¹⁵ In October 2012, the Chamber further directed the Co-Prosecutors to indicate, at the earliest opportunity, if certain statements would no longer be tendered and ordered that all objections to the OCP July 2012 Request be filed by 26 April 2013.¹¹⁶ The Co-Prosecutors have not previously indicated their intention of proposing statements beyond those identified in the OCP July 2012 Request. Instead, they twice affirmed – including after the extension of the scope of Case 002/01 to include executions of Khmer Republic officials at Tuol Po Chrey – that the OCP July 2012 Request, incorporating the Phase 1 Request and Phase 2 Request, was the operative and final list of proposed statements and transcripts.¹¹⁷ It was only on 9 April 2013, more than eight months after the filing of the OCP July 2012 Request and approximately two weeks before the deadline set by the Chamber for the parties to file objections, that the Co-Prosecutors filed the OCP Revised Request including, but failing to identify, those statements and transcripts not proposed in the OCP July 2012 Request.

41. Accordingly, the Chamber finds that, with regard to the 32 documents belatedly included in the OCP Revised Request in April 2013, the Co-Prosecutors failed to act with reasonable diligence, thus impeding the opportunity for effective adversarial challenge as required by Internal Rule 87. The Chamber consequently denies the request to admit them (Confidential Annex B, Section 4).

42. The Chamber additionally notes that Civil Party application D22/3246 was classified as ‘strictly confidential’ until 12 August 2013. On 17 June 2013, the concerned Civil Party’s lawyers requested re-classification and simultaneously withdrew a previous request for protective measures.¹¹⁸ The Chamber dismissed this request for protective measures on 28 June 2013 and re-classified D22/3246 as ‘confidential’ on 12 August 2013.¹¹⁹ Roughly five were either made by witnesses who appeared before the Chamber and/or were previously put before the Chamber and assigned an E3 number. Under such circumstances, the Chamber considers that the parties had sufficient notice and opportunity for adversarial challenge in relation to these documents despite their belated submission by the Co-Prosecutors for consideration in conjunction with the criteria set out in the Statements Decision.

months earlier, on 4 March 2013, the Lead Co-Lawyers undertook “to make appropriate inquiries and await a final determination on the status of protective orders” so that ‘strictly confidential’ statements to which the other parties did not have access could be re-classified or removed from the Civil Parties Revised Request.¹²⁰ By failing to seek re-classification or to remove D22/3246 from the Civil Parties Revised Request prior to the deadline for written objections on 26 April 2013 – as the Lead Co-Lawyers previously indicated they would – the Chamber considers that the Lead Co-Lawyers failed to exercise reasonable diligence in presenting D22/3246. Neither the Defence nor the Co-Prosecutors had access to this statement prior to filing their objections to, and submissions concerning, statements proposed in place of oral testimony or indeed until re-classification of D22/3246 by the Chamber on 12 August 2013. Absent the opportunity for effective adversarial challenge, the Chamber denies the request to admit D22/3246 (Confidential Annex B, Section 5).

4.2.7. Statements and Transcripts of Witnesses and Civil Parties who have Appeared before the Chamber

43. The Co-Prosecutors and Lead Co-Lawyers request the admission of 247 statements and transcripts made by witnesses and Civil Parties who have appeared before the Chamber. When a given witness or Civil Party appears, the Defence has the opportunity to confront them with prior statements and transcripts. These statements need not satisfy the criteria set out in the Statements Decision. Instead, they need only satisfy the general admissibility requirements set out in Internal Rule 87(3).

44. The Chamber is satisfied that these statements and transcripts of witnesses and Civil Parties who have appeared before the Chamber are prima facie relevant and reliable. It is furthermore in the interests of justice that such statements be considered in conjunction with the other evidence of a witness or Civil Party. Insofar as these statements and transcripts were not previously put before the Chamber, the Chamber now admits the prior statements of witnesses and Civil Parties who have appeared before the Chamber and will assess at the conclusion of the proceedings and on a case-by-case basis their probative value (Confidential Annex A, Section 5).
