

Report

[I] would like to report to respected Tram Kāk district Party, for your information:

Based on the Report of Sam Raung commune, there was a new person named Săo Chorn (សៅ ជន), a [former] soldier with a home village in Kien Svay, Kandal province. His wife's place of birth was in Youn [Vietnamese] country [and they] have a child.

For this person, Săo Chorn, nowadays has relocated and lives at Trapěang Por (ត្រពាំងពោធិ) village, Sam Raung commune, Tram Kāk district, Takeo province. He lives alone without his wife and child. Nowadays, he is a peasant who worked on paddy fields at Prey Mares.

Based on available information, later on Săo Chorn was reported to have talked with a person who shares the same bed with him as saying that Ănh [I] has brought some ten thousands riel along with me. For this money, I had instructed our Unit Chief to confiscate it already. [We] counted the money and it was 17,515 Riels and a fake travel letter was also seized, as clipped in the attachment of this report.

In addition to this report, a man who was told to have shared the same bed with the above man has made his response by saying that now the money is ineffective – why you kept it. For the latter, I did not know his name yet but I am following up.

Therefore, could you please the Angkar be informed.

With respect of serving the revolutionary duty.

Report

Report to the District Angkar, for your information

We would like to send one betrayer – as follow:

1. Nuon Neang was a deputy manager of a rubber plantation, just one level below a Frenchman. He supervised 1000 workers and he was a [former] first lieutenant. He even owned a personal 5 hectare-rubber plantation.

About his wife, she was a traditional midwife in the old regime and has a lot of conflicts as well. Especially, she is also suspected for [her involvement] in poisoning the female unit on a previous day. But, when [I] asked for comment from comrade (illegible – maybe Chhort, Chheath or Chhorn), he opined by saying that it's not a time to send her out yet because she still has issues with her too many children.

Thus, we decided to send only the husband first, so please be informed.

2. Neou Ny (នេវ ឃី), was a [former] soldier of the American's Die-hard Supporter Unit. He was brought to our Cambodia territory by America. This contemptible man was a Free Khmer who was flown to Cambodia by an American warplane from Youn country.

About his wife, a military medic also in the military. Tomorrow, [I] will bring her and her child to you.

Por Pel (ព័រពេល) – Chorn (ជ័ន) – signed

Note: His wife also lived in/from Kampuchea Krom.

- Bin (ប៊ិន), whose office was located in Malich Por Pel (ម្លិច ព័រពេល), and his network was from Siem Reap. This contemptible man has an international network.
- Our Angkar had already arrested two of them.
